Article published on November 29th 2011 | Business

When it comes to effective antivirus for Small business, Small business Norton products take the front row in terms of customer choice and cost effectiveness. Small businesses Norton products are best suited for start up small business and home run small business alike. Small business Norton products reachability is an appreciable factor considering the high costing of other patented antivirus products in the market today. Norton products for small business besides being economical in pricing are also very effective when it comes to protection of vital data and information from potential online threats. Norton products for small business cover emailing, browsers and local area network systems. Malicious websites can spread virus and damage important files. Sometimes the operating systems get affected by stealth and unknown viruses that can come in without warning. Norton products for small business cover various aspects of security covering files of different extensions. Some of the commonly protected file types are executables and command files that are vital for OS functioning, documents and downloaded files before and after download, email attachments and so forth. Norton products for small business can be bought off the shelf and online depending upon ones convenience.

Once purchasing is done Norton Antivirus for small business can be installed on individual systems and servers. The Norton Antivirus for small business editions are desktop based and server based. The Norton Antivirus for small business system supports domain based and work group based network systems for maximum security. Norton Internet security for small business covers operating systems like Vista, XP and release 7 of the windows based operating systems. Norton Internet security for small business mailing protection covers Microsoft outlook, outlook express and windows mail which cover 95% of mailing systems globally. Norton Internet security for small business is supported by a powerful fire wall system that essentially filters out any type of threat to the system.

Norton business system firmly supports its customers via dedicated help desk. Norton business customer support is very easy to reach and can solve any of customer doubts related to Norton 360 for small business in installation and configuration processes. Norton 360 for small business can be easily installed and configured instantly across network based systems. End users who are novice in software applications find Norton 360 for small business very much user friendly in nature coupled with dedicated Norton business customer support.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/firewalls-to-protect-budding-businesses.htm - Article Side

DelmarBob - About Author:
Norton offers proven, reliable virus, spyware, firewall, identity protection, and more for your small business or home office. For More Information About a Small business And a Small business Norton products Please Visit Our Website.

Article Keywords:
Small business,Small business Norton products

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!