Many women feel that a perfect handbag is highly essential in the fashion world and they wish to spend some valuable time in shipping for branded handbags like Gucci handbags. Holding a branded handbag offers not only a rich look, but also a fashionable look. However, any famous product makes its competitors to introduce similar models as a duplicate to the product and this is applicable to the Gucci handbags as well. Therefore, women who wish to buy authentic Gucci handbag should possess the ability to protect themselves from duplicate products and here are some tips for identifying a fake bag:

At the first sight, have a look at the material of the bag since authentic Gucci handbags are made out of high quality materials like animal skin or real leather and original bags are manufactured out of a single piece of leather, therefore, if a woman feels that the bag is manufactured with several small pieces of leather, she can come to a conclusion that it is a fake bag.

Next comes the craftsmanship of the bag, where the original pieces will have unquestionable craftsmanship and not even a single stitch will be out of place, fake pieces will not carry these characteristics. Original bags will have high-quality threading and firm stitching and these features will be absent in duplicate bags.

Then comes the serial number, original bags are offered with serial numbers in a small leather tag on the zipper seam. It will be of 4 to 6 numbers stamped on the back of the leather and tag will also have the term â€˜Gucciâ€™ and the place where it was manufactured will also be available. The purchase can check the hardware of the handbag, which should be in right sheen and color and this can be checked from the official website of Gucci. If the hardware is scratched, it is not an original bag.

The logo or brand name of Gucci should be engraved on the hardware and not simply printed or embossed. Only a bag with engraved logo on the strap hardware is the original piece.

Gucci handbags are beautiful and wondrous extension of personality of a woman and she can make a fashion statement with the handbag. Therefore, most of the women wish to go for original Gucci bags. There are online stores helping out people who wish to buy authentic Gucci handbags and selection of a reliable store can ensure the purchase of an original bag.
