Article published on March 20th 2012 | Destinations

Summer season is on the verge of arriving in India. The fact that the scorching weather creates lethargy and exhaustion among one and all, a perfect escapade in the lap of Himalayas offer veritable oasis to the tourists. Hill station tours in India come as a welcome respite from the scorching heat of summers and create an aura of refreshment and serenity for the travelers. The mere mention of hill stations bring to mind picturesque pictures of blooming meadows, gigantic snow clad mountains, verdant landscapes and enchanting valleys creating a wonderful collage on the canvas of mind.

Hill station tours to India comprises of some of the most gorgeous and attractive landscapes situated in the backdrop of Himalayas such as Nainital, Shimla, Srinagar, Manali, Rishikesh and many more alike. Due to the fact that these are some of the most frequented destinations in India make them feature in most of the tailor made holiday packages across India. Nestled in the northernmost part of the country, Himachal Pradesh is one of the most charming destinations in India. What makes Himachal Pradesh fall in the category of some of the choicest retreats for India tours are the panoramic views of snow-studded mountains, fruit orchards, beautiful gorges and thick pine forests as well as the opportunity for various trekking trails and adventure trips making for a thrilling Himalayan adventure experience.

When it comes to Himachal tours, Kullu and Manali are the two most preferred destinations that top the chart for hill station tours in India. A hotspot for honeymooners and adventure enthusiasts, Kullu and Manali is a big draw for domestic and international tourists. Besides Kullu and Manali, Shimla, the capital of the state, is another famous destination in Himachal Pradesh. The erstwhile summer capital of Britisherâ€™s, today, Shimla is not just tucked with fun and excitement but also acquaints you with the religious and cultural heritage of the place.

Kashmir too is an ideal getaway for Himalaya tours. Nestled amidst Pir Panjal and Himalayan mountain range, Kashmir is an incredible land of serenity and serendipity. Be it the tranquilizing effect of Dal Lake, luxuriant tropical foliage of Mughal gardens or spiritual trek to pilgrims like Vaishno Devi and Amarnath, this mountain realm offers the best options for hill station tours. Besides aforementioned features, Kashmir offers the best possible opportunities for Adventure tours at Gulmarg, best known for trekking and snow skiing.

Darjeeling situated in the backdrop of towering Mt. Kanchenjunga provides perfect getaway for those who are seeking seclusion in the lap of nature. Besides chilled weather and wonderful tea plantations, Darjeeling Himalayan Railway, the century old miniature steam engine train and a World Heritage Site, is a major attraction of this place. Mount Abu situated in the Aravali mountain range is the only summer retreat in the desert realm of Rajasthan.

Just like West, South India too boasts of some spectacular and majestic hill stations that makes entire experience of tours to India worth a try. Munnar, Kodaikanal and Ooty are some of the popular tourist places in South India which offer a tranquil and unperturbed ambience for holidays in India. The heavenly beauty and composure of Indian hill stations is aptly complemented by flower filled meadows, panoramic views, salubrious climate and cascading waterfalls. Besides all that, the opportunities for adventure trails add thrill and excitement to your summer holidays in India.
