Emerging facility for distance learning in Botswana by Rogar Mur

Article published on April 20th 2012 | Education

Distance learning system has spread its sphere much more in comparison to regular or full time courses. Botswana has experienced the urgency of spreading education all over its territory and therefore started scattering the different modes of education. The urgency to increase the educational institutions to provide more degrees to students has led to establish learning through distance mode. It was not possible to increase the seats as well as institutes any more. But the demands of students to study and to achieve their goals have led down the university to start correspondence program.

At the same time it is not possible to provide ample space as well as perfect timings to those who aspire to achieve more education. It is not possible to act according to the needs and demands of the students always, therefore Botswana University has inculcated distance learning program in its proforma. Thus, it has opened its hand out to the population who wants to achieve their dreams. There are different degrees available in each sections of the learning program. Special preferences are given to individual students who show their interest in making their dreams come true. Through this process of education it helps out the students to build up a bright career so that the nation gets benefitted out of it.

Lots of campaigns and practical knowledge is being given to the students who come in for the program. There are many students who couldnâ€™t afford high cost education due to weak financial background. Hence, distance learning helps up those students to move further in their respective field so that they can finally manages to live up their dreams. The degrees that are being provided here are of much importance. These are highly acclaimed to build up a bright future for the students. It not only helps in building a bright career but also initiates proper training to each individual. The distance programs use lots of self-instructional materials as well as face to face sessions. The university provides ample study materials and modules to each individual so that they can prepare themselves upto the mark. They initiate group discussions among the off campus/ on campus students. They also establish open discussion programs among the regular and correspondence students so that they can exchange their views and ideas to enhance their knowledge power more vividly. It also provides flexibility in time as well as learning procedure.
