Tablet PCs emerged as a revolutionary gadget in the consumer electronics markets with the launch of the iPad by Apple Inc in mid 2010. In 2011, the global Tablet PC market reached USD 35.3 Billion, which is expected to grow further till 2016. The UK Tablet PC™s market is anticipated to grow at the CAGR of around 31.88% with the wide acceptance and increased demand from Enterprises. Tablet PC™s have filled the gap perfectly between a notebook computer and a smart phone. Global and UK Tablet PC market are growing at the much faster pace than anticipated initially. The lower market penetration with increasing consumer acceptance is driving the industry growth exponentially. The new entrants are experimenting to show their product differently than usual by adding joystick, keyboard, stylus, brush, and changing the size to attract more and more customers. Till end of 2011, Apple Inc. is leading the market with its radical products followed by Samsung, Asus and others. However, the market share trends are expected to encounter strong changes from the current trend by 2016 which would lead the market dynamics to new heights.
