Various types of Web Hosting Services by Ajay Kumar

Article published on April 19th 2012 | Web Hosting

Are you looking for great Web Hosting Services for your website? There are several options available today and not all of them are good. Some hosting solutions are specifically meant for a business, while some are meant for a personal use. Web Hosting Service Providers today offer several types of hosting plans. There is a very thin difference between website hosting plans. So let me give you some basic information about the various kinds of hosting plans. The most popular web hosting plans are shared, dedicated, reseller and cloud hosting.

â€¢ Shared hosting is most the economical website hosting plan that is available in the market. In this hosting plan several customers share the resources of a single server. This Web Hosting plan in India is generally recommended to users who are starting out with a new website. The only drawback of this hosting plan is that several users share the same server which leads to lower processing speed.

â€¢ Dedicated hosting is one in which a single server is exclusively dedicated to a single user. The user of this dedicated server gets to enjoy all its resources and has the liberty to create as many websites. The biggest advantage of this hosting plan is that it offers its user with a great processing speed. The only limitation of this hosting plan is that it is very expensive. As the server is purely dedicated to a single client, he needs to shell out more money to enjoy its complete benefits.

â€¢ Reseller hosting is among the most popular Web Hosting Services available today. This hosting plan offers its user with the opportunity to further resell hosting space to others. This plan has come about as a great money making venture for small businesses.

â€¢ Cloud hosting is the latest Web Hosting solution in India. This hosting solution provides user with computing power of several interconnected servers. The biggest benefit that a user has with this plan is that user only needs to pay for the amount of services they use.

If you are planning set up a website, the first thing you should look for is a reliable web host. In order to find the best hosting company the user should be well versed with the various types of hosting plans. So, before selecting any Web Hosting Company in India, a user get himself acquainted with all the types of hosting plans and then only choose the Web Hosting Service Provider.
