Why Kids Benefit from Summer Dance Camp by King Kevin

Summer can be a challenging time for parents and kids alike. Quality programs and care options are difficult to find, especially affordable ones. Enrolling your child in one of the many Summer Dance Camps offered by Synergy Dance Studio in Austin is a great chance for your kids to be creative, learn a new skill, and make friends.

Three specific summer dance camps are available multiple times throughout the summer. Each has age restrictions and other requirements. Children who are three to five years old can enroll in one of the 3-hour preschool camps with themes that include Fairy Wonderland, Dancin' Disney, and Princess Party.

If your child is in the four and a half to eleven year old range, they can attend one of the four 5-hour camps: Glee, Teen Pop Diva, Everything Justin, or Shake It Up. These camps include instruction in ballet, jazz, tap, hip hop, acting, gymnastics as well as arts and crafts. And, best of all, no experience or ability in dance is required for your child to participate in this summer dance camp.

Weekly 5-hour camps are available for children who want more intensive dance instruction. Camps are divided by age and skill level. Children must be between seven and sixteen to participate in these camps. Your child is required to have some basic dance experience prior to enrolling in one of these week-long camps.

Technical training is provided at the summer dance camp. Different camp opportunities are available for each age group. Techniques that are taught allow participating children to build on skills and take their dance experience to the next level if they so desire.

At Synergy Dance Studio, your child will benefit from talented instructors and state-of-the-art equipment. Suspended hard wood floors are used during every lesson to prevent injury. Wall-to-wall mirrors are used so instructors and children can execute flawless dance moves. Parents can monitor their children's progress through observation windows.

Several camps, particularly those for younger children, include healthy snacks. There is no need to buy dance clothing - kids just need to wear something that is comfortable to move around in. At the conclusion of every camp, the kids perform a dance number for parents.

Kids have fun at summer dance camp. In addition, they learn valuable life skills such as self-confidence, self-respect, and self-discipline which will stay with them into adulthood. Instructors provide encouragement in a supportive atmosphere which fosters creativity and enjoyment regardless of initial dancing ability.

Prices vary depending on the specific camp but all are affordable. Space is limited so it is important to make a reservation for your child as soon as possible. Simply send in the registration form with the required non-refundable deposit which covers a portion of the actual cost of the camp. The balance is due to the studio within two weeks of camp beginning.

While there are numerous Austin Dance studios, only Synergy Dance Studio combines exceptionally talented instructors with creative dance techniques that engage children as young as two years old. Your kids will have fun in a safe environment and learn valuable skills in the process!
