Article published on April 20th 2012 | Article Writing

When we enter into professional academic world, we see lots of people having different perceptions and ideas. It is very difficult to adjust in that environment because as everybody is of different nature. After spending some time in that environment groups are made. So I would like to inform you that I had group of five members. Our group members were motivating, understanding and helpful by nature. We used to help our friends and shared problems with each other.

I still remember that when we were in the second year of University then we used to play a unique game. The unique game was that we decided that, whoever will get highest marks in marketing subject will give us treat. Similarly, for another subject we decided that whoever will get lowest marks in particular subject, then he will also give treat to us. So this was the most funniest and tension full game for us. Tension full game is for the one who received highest and lowest marks in that particular subject and funniest game is for the one who did not get either highest or lowest marks.

When marks was about to be announced for the specific course, then we all were very excited. We all were praying for the highest marks. Soon when the marks got announced, one who got highest marks in that particular subject started making lame excuses that I have lots of work to do, I cannot give time , I have to go for job, I have to do assignment as submission of that assignment is very near. Then one friend slapped him in love and said that, â€œgo on internet and just type write my essay or write my paper etc. There will be hundreds of websites you will see that can write on each and every topic. The one you think that this website can provide you the best essay writing service, then you can just place your order there. Now in this way you will save your time. All of my friends were grabbing me and forcing me to give treat to them, as I had got highest marks, but I was not in a mode to spend my money.

I was trying to escape but I was unable to run from there. In the end, I said that, â€œAll of you are invited at my house sharp at 9â€•. Then all of my friends shouted and exclaimed with joy â€œHurrayâ€•. A were happily embracing each other. After that sharp at 9, all friends were at my home, I gave a warm welcome to them. I announced that â€œassume that this is your own house so eat and drink whatever you wantâ€•. All shouted in happiness and then I switched on the music system. In this way the party went on. Same this kept on happening in every exam. This was a unique game and we enjoyed every moment of our life as groups and individual.

Resource:

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/article-writing-articles/it-is-very-difficult-to-adjust-in-that-environment.htm - Article Side

Tiffany Parker - About Author:
Feel free to order us to a write my essay or a write my paper right now. Originalessaywriting.com is one of the a best essay writing service.

Article Keywords:
Write my essay, write my paper, best essay writing service

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!