AMA Approved Online Defensive Driving Course in Alberta

by Anna Rathod

Article published on January 18th 2012 | Auto

Need To Dismiss Points?

Taking a defensive driving course is the only way to remove demerit points from your driving record in Canada and ensure that your insurance rate is not affected. This course is designed to be done entirely online. The course can be accessed from any computer with a basic internet connection, so where and when you work on it is up to you.

Approval Status

The Alberta Transportation, Driver Programs and Licensing Standards has approved this online course throughout Canada for anyone who needs to dismiss demerit points from their driver record. This course qualifies you to remove up to 3 points from your record as long as you have at least 2 and no more than 14. This course may also qualify you for a discount on your car insurance rate.

Getting Started Online

Before you can get started on the online defensive driving course you will need to register and set up your own online account. You can do this by selecting a unique username and password which will allow you to log in from any computer location to access your online course.

Course Information

The defensive driving course is separated into individual units that you can work on at your own pace. Each unit deals with different driver-related issues that affect you every day on the roadways and you will also learn about the current rules and regulations in your area. There are short review quizzes after every unit that you can take as many times as you want.

Online Defensive Driving Course Pace

The online course is 6 hour of work total but it does not have a time limit, which allows you to work at whatever pace is most comfortable for you. You will never feel rushed or pressed for time and can take a break when you need one.

Final Exam Format

The final exam at the end of the defensive driving course is made up of 40 multiple-choice questions that have been taken from the course material. You must get at least an 80% to pass the final exam, but you can take it multiple times.

Driver Safety Issues

This online course will address safe driving techniques, different types of impaired driving and how to avoid them, ways to increase your awareness on the roadways, and the up to the minute driving rules and regulations in Alberta.

Completion Information

Once you finish the course you will receive a certificate of completion, which will qualify you to dismiss 3 Alberta demerit points from your driving record. This certificate is also the proof you will need to present to your insurance agency if they offer discounts for safe driving course completions.

24-Hour Support

There are support team members available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and they can answer any questions you may have throughout the online course. You can ask a question by sending an email, calling the toll-free hotline, or having a live chat session right on the computer.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/auto-articles/ama-approved-online-defensive-driving-course-in-alberta.htm - Article Side

Anna Rathod - About Author:
Anna Rathod, expert author in writing Driver Safety tips for Canadian drivers. Alberta Motor Association approved defensive driving course is regarding driver safety awareness and road safety tips to avoid traffic violations and to dismiss your Alberta Traffic Ticket.

To know more about defensive driving course in Alberta, visit: a http://www.idrivesafely.ca/ , a Defensive Driving Course

Article Keywords:
Alberta Defensive Driving, Defensive Driving Alberta, Alberta Defensive Driving Course, Alberta Defensive Driving Online, Defensive Driving Course Alberta, Defensive Driving Course Online Alberta

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!