WSI franchises are all about one thing: profits.

We want to make money, and we know you want to make money. According to British franchising authorities, some 90 percent of franchises in the UK are operating at a profit, every single year. There are profits to be had in franchising, and itâ€™s easy to see why â€" resources and training, combine with local independence and minimum of investment.

We offer our franchises a great many advantages in reducing the amount of investment required to get moving. Above all, a new business owner wants to get a return on investment as soon as possible, to start operating â€œin the blackâ€• and gaining those wonderful profits that are so important to making life go smoothly.

WSI franchises have access to training programs and support tools from the Corporate Office. We teach you what you need to know, without the fluff and time wasted that can come with other business training courses. After all, this isnâ€™t an abstract course about the principles of business management â€" these are practical, focused training sessions about what you will be doing day-to-day as a businessperson. Your time is valuable, and we want to make the most of it in our training so you can focus on turning a profit.

We chose this business model because one of the key concerns in return on investment is time.

Itâ€™s wonderful if, for example, you get back 300 dollars for every 100 you invest. However, that isnâ€™t so wonderful if the earnings are spread out over 15 years. Our effective and tested training methods take up the minimum amount of time necessary to get you to expert status in what we offer, and then set you off in the field to do the work youâ€™ve learned how to do.

So, with setup costs reduced to a minimum, and your time used as efficiently as possible, itâ€™s quite clear why a WSI franchise could easily be part of that 90 percent of profitable companies. We want to make money, and so do you, so letâ€™s go into business together and start making a profit.
