Sony Ericsson mobiles are for sure making the rounds these days with a few of the new mobiles that they have come up with. They include the new Sony Ericsson Cedar. It is very interesting to know that this mobile is a GSM mobile that can be used anywhere on the globe. It can be used with the T mobile of the Unites States and also with the AT&T. But the only thing is that it can be used without 3G.

It comes as a small surprise to us when we know that these mobiles have now gone green as the company is more intent on Eco friendly ventures. This is the effort that they are taking in order to save the mother earth, as they say. Encouraged with the support that they got, they have come up with the Greenheart line, which is now being continued in to many more mobiles that they are producing. The latest one among them is the Sony Ericsson Cedar. This has been very popular of late with regard to all the features that it holds in its.

It is an entry level mobile phone. It comes with a 3.5 mm jack. There is 3G on the mobile and it also has an expandable memory. There is a bit of green that is added to the sides of the mobile.

It comes in a tiny box, and you can see that the green thing stats even before you are ready to switch on your mobile. There is nothing grand that is put up with it that would be usually done in the case of any other mobiles. There are the papers that any box would hold and there is a wall charger that is provided with it. The mobile itself comes with a plastic make, which is a recycles one. This mobile is not a touch screen one. The size of the screen is 2.2 inches. The resolution of the screen is 240x320 pixels.

The keys that it has been raised from the surface. They are kind of rubbery in nature and have a good grip. Overall it has good feedback coming in from many sides.

The Sony Ericsson mobile price would show you the Sony Ericsson Cedar price. There are the sites where you can find the Sony Ericsson Cedar price in India. You will get to know that it is a cheap mobile with good features in it.
