Kolkata, also known as the city of joy, welcomes tourists from all across the globe with folded hands and immense warmth as it opens doors to a fleet of cultural places and heritage properties worth seeing. Blooming to be an upcoming tourist destination, a comfortable stay at one of the centrally located budget hotels in Kolkata can ensure a fun-filled experience of an array of activities and places, worth remembering and cherishing for a lifetime.

The cultural capital of India, Kolkata, is frequented by millions of tourists every year who keenly want to catch a glimpse of the age ole Victorian and British-ruled properties like the Fort William, Victoria Memorial, the Howrah Bridge and also the oldest and first tram services and the underground rail system. For die-hard cricket fans, a visit to the Eden Gardens reminisces memoirs of the heart-throbbing game and the Botanical Gardens, hosting the thousands of years old Banyan tree, makes for a nice full-day picnic excursion. Not by passing the children, of course, the city has a host of water-theme parks and entertainment parks as well, like the wet-o-world, the Nicco Park, and the Zoological Garden as well. The Indian museum, The Birla Planetarium, Science City, the list seems endless when considering the exciting, entertaining and educational places to visit in the city, all you need is to choose from the good economy hotels in Kolkata, located in the heart of the city, to make commuting easy and economic for you.

Budget Hotels in Kolkata

A good budget hotel option in Kolkata is Hotel Park Inn which is located on Park Street, the heart of the city. It offers a pollution-free environment even amidst the hustle-bustle of Kolkata, with well-furnished rooms, clad with all modern day amenities to ensure a comfortable stay. The hotel features well-ventilated rooms, a multi-cuisine restaurant that offers Indian, Chinese, Tandoori and continental delicacies, internet facilities and a very helpful and friendly travel desk, always awaiting to make all your outdoor arrangements. All these facilities provided at only Rs. 1200 per night is like a dream come true and, as commented by some of its guests who recently stayed at this venue, the hotel is one of the best they had ever stayed in, providing good location and satisfactory service.

Next in the category is Hotel Gulshan International which is located one block away from Park Street, at a distance of 6 km from the railway station and 15 km from the Dumdum airport. The hotel has well decorated rooms, furnished with all modern day amenities, and the best part about it is that it is situated at walking distance from most of the happening shopping complexes of Kolkata, namely Vardaan market, New market, Westside and Pantaloons, making it an icing on the cake for all shopaholics. The hotel gives complimentary breakfast, hosts a multi-cuisine restaurant having both veg and non-veg items of all platters like Indian, Chinese and Tandoori food, conference facility with internet and e-mail access, all at affordable room rate of Rs. 1895 per night. Unbelievable, but true, the hotel is 'nice, staff friendly and attentive' as commented by one of its recent customers.
