All Vw cars have two things in common - reliability and moreover definitely high performance. The time-tested German carmaker is all set to release four more avant-garde models very soon. Weather you like retro-styling, sporty avatars, or maybe luxurious sedans, there is a new model to suit all preferences.

1) Beetle Fender Edition

The musical car is a new model of the Volkswagen Beetle which is sure to be a hit amidst rock lovers. Beetle Fender Version is the only European car that you could order with a extraordinary sound system from Fender. The sound system has four hundred Watts power, a total of nine speakers, one subwoofer, plus 4 deluxe tweeters.

You can purchase the Beetle Fender Model in two different shades of black: "Black Uni" and moreover "Deep Black Pearl Effect". Being black, it is guaranteed that the 18-inch disc alloys and outlining chrome trims are shown to perfection.

Another pretty stunning feature of the Beetle Fender Edition is its chic dash pad that will have a Fender emblem in chrome plating on it. The finishing effect is that of "Sunburst", a two-tone wooden design which many Fender made guitars come in.

The new car is expected to be launched in the US in fall, and the prices are yet to be announced.

2) Scirocco GTS

Scirocco is a high end sports car which first made an appearance thirty years back. It is now supposed to launch its new model with the new GTS. Fantastic new functions of the car are:

* Rear spoiler

* Red calipers that would show by a burnished 18-inch thunder alloy wheels

* Multi-colored racing stripes

* A stylish looking diffuser on the exterior

* GTS badges

* Attractive colors in the interiors

The sports coupe would begin sales by 2013.

3) CrossPolo "Urban White"

If you thought white cars were a banality, think again, because the white of this new Volkswagen car will sweep you off your feet. Known as the "Oryx White Mother of Pearl Effect", the special white shade of the "CrossPolo" is one of the most striking features of the car.

Another treat for the eyes are the 17-inch "Budapest" alloy wheels that would be available in two colors - black and white. To improve the complete look and feel of the car, the interior color of black has been selected to contrast well with the white exteriors.

The roll-out in Germany is expected to be at the same time as the showcasing of "CrossPolo" at the Leipzig Auto Mobil International motor show.

4) 2013 Volkswagen CC R-Line

The Leipzig Auto Mobil International show will witness the launch of another impressive new model of Vw. It has a 2.0 liter engine running on 200 HP, and 18-inch Mallory alloy wheels. A six-speed transmission will be additional.
