Prague Airport Facilities by Lek Boonlert

Article published on November 29th 2011 | Aviation

Millions of travellers pass through the airport every year and many of them are important passengers who have access to the various VIP lounges in the terminal building. These lounges are available to anyone who holds business air tickets, frequent flyer programme cards and non-transferrable club cards. The lounges are stocked with refreshments and all offer internet access.

VIP lounges are located on the first and second floors in Terminal 1, as well as on the third floor of Terminal 2. They offer a private and relaxing space for passengers before or after their flights. The use of the lounge must be ordered and reserved in advance. In addition to the lounge, VIP passengers can rent a press room that includes access to VIP parking and congress desks.

All the lounges offer privacy and a range of amenities, including drinks, snacks, TVs, internet access and business facilities. In the North Terminal of Terminal 1, passengers will find the Crystal Lounge and the Bohemia and Representative lounges. In the South Terminal, there are lounges and two conference rooms available. The conference rooms will accommodate a different number of people, so be sure to specify the number required when making your booking.

Having access to a VIP lounge allows business travellers to relax and conduct their business affairs before boarding their flight. After leaving their Prague airport hotel, many passengers will still have business affairs to tend to, so reserving one of the VIP lounges for a last-minute meeting makes perfect sense.
