Choose Beautifully Designed, Affordable Wedding Dresses by John Arthur

Article published on January 3rd 2012 | Weddings

Anne Hathawayâ€™s engagement to Adam Shulman creates a buzz in the fashion industry as everyone awaits the designer sheâ€™ll choose for her wedding dress. It could be her close friend Valentino Garavani or Georgina Chapman. But being an international fashion icon, Anne is sure to make a bold fashion statement with her wedding gown.

The craze over Twilight sagaâ€™s Breaking Dawn didnâ€™t end in theatres as fashion retailer Alfredo Angelo finally released Bella Swanâ€™s replica wedding dresses. When these dresses arrived on Australian shores, brides-to-be all over the country lined up at bridal shops to buy this more affordable copy of the vampireâ€™s brideâ€™s wedding gown.

With the help of Wedding Robotâ€™s wedding suppliers and wedding planners, you can also own your dream wedding gown for an affordable price. They have a range of elegantly designed wedding dresses to choose from that are sure to be in your budget. You can also share your wedding gown inspirations to give them an idea of your perfect dress. If you like Kate Middletonâ€™s or Kim Kardashianâ€™s gowns, they can replicate these expensive, boutique designer wedding gowns to suit your budget. Wedding Robot will try their hardest to find you the dress of your dreams, because they want you to look good and feel good on your big day.

Affordable Wedding Dresses can be Perfect when Itâ€™s All about You Itâ€™s your day; itâ€™s your gown, so choose the one thatâ€™s perfect for you. Here are some useful tip get you started in your wedding dress shopping.

â€¢ The style should suit your personality, mood, taste, and body type.

o Length

o Sleeves

o Skirt

o Necklines

o Trains

o Veils

o Colour

o Fabric

o Decoration

o Headdress

o Accessories

â€¢ The style should be according to your preferred gown cut.

o A-line or Princess Cut â€“ body fit, but flows out going down o Ball Gown â€“ body fit with a full skirt (overwhelming for a petite womanâ€™s figure)

o Empire â€“ waistline sits below the bust then flows out down

o Mermaid â€“ contour fit from chest to knee then flows out to the hem o Sheath or Column â€“ straight fit from top to hem (not flattering for a full-figured woman) â€¢ The style should be appropriate for your theme, ceremony and reception venues.

o Fairy tale wedding in a huge cathedral â€“ long, classic dress with a veil and train o Beach or garden wedding â€“ short dress with flowers as headdress

o Modern wedding in a small church or hotel â€“ elegant, sharp dress without frills

Although there are so many design details to consider, everything boils down to two key factors when it comes to choosing your wedding dress:

â€¢ Flattering to your body o Accentuates your assets and hides the unflattering parts o Suits your body type/shape â€¢ Comfortable to wear throughout the event o Easy to manage when you sit, stand, walk, dance and laugh

o Appropriate to the season of your wedding day

On your special day, wear a wedding dress that will make you look beautiful and feel confident. Give your groom another reason he canâ€™t take his eyes off you.
