Article published on February 1st 2012 | Business

Our clients choose Eldridge Financial Currency Management for the many factors that distinguish us in the industry, including:

Currency Specialists â€“ Currency risk management is our singular focus. This focus has allowed us to develop a time-tested philosophy and process, which have been successfully applied for clients around the world.

Extensive Experience â€“ Our principals possess between 15 and 30 years experience in their areas of expertise, analysis and trading. Each of our clients has access to the skill, insight and resources of these senior professionals.

Quantitative Focus â€“ Currency risk is significant and unpredictable. Our disciplined, quantitative focus provides clients with the information and strategies essential to manage currencies through many market environments.

Customized Solutions â€“ Each client has different currency risk management or return objectives. Only after analyzing your particular currency exposures do we tailor a solution to match your specific currencies, benchmarks, risk tolerances and return objectives. This high degree of customization is considered unique in the industry.

Eldridge Financial understands, anticipates and meets its clients' changing financial needs with a multitude of high-quality products and services.

For Institutions and Public Sector Entities

We understand that our institutional investors â€“ including pension funds, foundations and Taft-Hartley plans â€“ face a unique set of demands, concerns and capital constraints.

For Corporations

The professionals at Eldridge Financial understand the pressures that today's CEOs, CFOs, risk managers and other executives face. More importantly, we know how to help businesses and the people who run them.

For Individuals and Families

At Eldridge Financial, we take pride in getting to know each and every one of our individual and family clients â€“ from their risk tolerance to the names of their children.

For International Clients

From equities and fixed income to hedge fund strategies, private equity and currency management, Eldridge Financial has what it takes to assist global institutions with their most intricate investment needs.

For Consultants

With a wide array of strong investment management strategies across both traditional and alternative asset classes, Eldridge Financial offers consultants a powerful resource for finding effective solutions for clients.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/distinguishing-characteristics-eldridge-financial.htm - Article Side

Eldridgefinancial - About Author:
Eldridge Financial
Jaime Paige
Marketing & Promotions
54, 17th Avenue
La Miranda, CA USA 90639
tel #: 8004579843
eldridgefinancial@yahoo.com
http://www.eldridgefinancial.com/

Article Keywords:
Eldridge Financial

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!