Education keeps a lot of importance in everyoneâ€™s life and the reason is that without proper education there is nothing possible good going to happen. Education is so powerful that without proper education a country cannot do well. Education is not only good for a person;

it is very good for a country;especially, for a developing country where education keeps a lot of importance. Without proper amount of education there wonâ€™t be any advancement in the country. If the people of the country is literate means there is more of employment and awareness, less of poverty and social evil. If all is good then it is definite that the country will move towards success.

It is obvious if there is more of education then there will be more of advancement in the country. More educated people will get a job employment and socially advancement will take place. The government of India is taking lot of step to help out the status of education in India. In the recent budget we have seen that how government of India has brought special finances and helped the schemes to help more children towards educations. There are many schemes for children such as sarva siksha abhiyan, mid day meal, rajiv gandhisiksha yojna, all of these are to help out the children with education.

Recently we can see that government has brought reservation of 25% on private schools that they have to take 25% children from below the poverty line till the age of 14 so that all such kind of children can get a benefit of study. There are many special steps for girl child not just to help them up with studies in fact it even promotes girl child. There are schemes of free education for girl child till the age of 14 if they stand below the poverty line.

There are many types of education schemes in India which all is just to help out the education in India. If India will have a proper education level in India then only the country will move towards its betterment. There are world schools in Ashok Vihar which is very good in providing educations to the students. There are different boards which give out education, there is some basic difference in between these boards but still they do a lot for our studies. CBSE board schools in Ashok Vihar and ICSE School in Ashok Vihar are great in providing education.
