Article published on February 29th 2012 | Business

Are you one of those several individuals who have in recent times are suffering due to loss of employment as a result of their disability? You might be speculating regarding ways to make your wants or basic necessities along with the medical costs meet. Then the answer or solution to your trouble is the disability income. This is known well as the supplemental security income and this is going to fit your bill proficiently.

The predicament is that most of the people have come across scores of discouraging information from other individuals or have a number of preconceived ideas on the subject of the application procedure. Five of these widespread misconceptions or complete myths regarding two of these social programs as well as application for benefits are provided here in this article.

1) The more elongated time individuals are in a state of disability the better their probability of getting the SSI benefit approved:

This is actually not the truth. It is the greatest misconception of people. The time length of being in the state of disability has nothing to do with whether the court is going to grant social security disability money or not. How long individuals have been put out of action is going to have no blow on the application of the individuals. The merely time frame which is in fact relevant is the time amount individuals are anticipated to be in the state of disability. For obtaining the grant of SSI disability earning in case of both the programs the disability of the people should be anticipated to last no less than a year or longer. While individuals take into the consideration the duration of the procedure of application it will be prudent to apply immediately once they have been diagnosed disability.

2) The case of the individual is exclusive plus is going to move the assessor:

Everybody likes to think that their cases are special ones and to somebody they most confidently are however social security disability reviewers go through several applications every week or sometimes even regular in a number of locations and they should unemotionally assess every one on the basis of the medicinal merits.

3) You mailed the whole thing in, no necessitate of transcribing:

Throughout your procedure of application, you will be managing humans, prone to mistake or error. Do not just drop vital documents in the post and expect that they have reached the correct destination.

4) You are not going to get SSI disability money automatically approval because the doctor says you are disabled.

5) Another misconception is that the lawyer is going to take majority of the money you will be getting.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/few-misconceptions-regarding-social-security-disability-money-claim.htm - Article Side

Safinajones - About Author:
Safina Jones is a legal advisor who has good information on a SSI Disability and a social security disability. To know more please visit a http://www.consumerlawfirmcenter.com/.

Article Keywords:
Social Security Disability, SSI Disability

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!