When you own a business, you need to do everything possible to decrease your expenses. We all want the best possible service for the least possible cost! When you send mail on a daily basis, then you will know that the process requires time and money. There is a solution that comes in the form of a franking machine. What franking machines can do for you and for the wellbeing of your business will be revealed in this article.

Posting letters, parcels and packages everyday may be conducive to your business. You know how much it is likely to cost and it is possible that you may have been overcharged for these services on occasion, not to mention the time that you have lost waiting in line at the post office. Buying a franking machine will spare your of these daily trips and you will always pay a fair price according to the size and number of letters or packages that you send on a daily basis. Franking machines have other advantages that the classic mail service is unable to offer you.

What are these services? A franking machine will enable you to personalise your letters or packages with whatever information you want. It is usual to use brand logos, addresses and other information regarding the products and services on offer. This will enable anyone who has contact with your mail to be familiar with your company and the services that you provide. The franking machine achieves a professional and attractive first impression on all of your mail. As you can see, franking machines a great addition to any company.

Where can you buy these franking machines? That is a very good question with a straight forward answer. You can purchase a franking machine from authorised dealers. Franking machines must be kept in perfect order and at least once a year they must be serviced by an authorised professional. Franking machines can help you calculate the mailing costs taking into consideration the number of letters, the size and the width of the packages you send.

The price for a franking machine may differ according to the number of letters it is able to send per minute, the features of the integrated scale, how many pre-sets you can program and what other extra functions it may have. It will also provide an accurate reading of your mailing costs. It is one of the greatest investments you will make for your business.
