Verify whether the dealer online has got certification from the coin exchange or not. Genuine dealers will always follow rules and by becoming a member he could favor you with more amounts of gold coins and silver coins for reasonable price. Ask him whether he can make the delivery within the given timeframe. If he is not able to give back correct answer then you should think twice before making payment with this bullion dealer.

There are plenty of dealers online who can find right solution for all your needs of gold. They offer true gold at fair price and further there are agents who give storage facilities for the purchased gold. An account will be opened in your name or initials and the entire savings of gold coins or bars will safely be stored there. Some bullion dealers buy gold on wholesale price directly from the mint and sell it to the customers for reasonable prices. Always do research on the internet to locate the right website which is genuine and reliable in selling gold. Watch the gold price before you start paying for the metal to the gold dealer. When the price is not too high or low, it is the right time to make payment.
