How to Select the Best Bathroom Tiling by Rose Brodribb

Article published on February 23rd 2012 | Business

Are you planning the bathroom remodeling? Then one of the easiest options is to change the tiling. But to select the best tiles for your bathroom can be a difficult choice given the wide options in tile designs and colors. You need to keep a number of factors in mind before you set out to get new tiles for your bathroom. Some of the best ways to get the best bathroom fitting done just follow the below mentioned steps:

1. Quality: Remember not to compromise on the quality of bathroom tiles as bad quality tiles may not be water resistant and may become dangerous when wet. Good quality tiles are highly skid proof so that you donâ€™t slip on them when the tiles are wet.

2. Complement the fixtures: With waterproofing Nerang donâ€™t forget to ensure that that your tiles should gel with the fixtures used in your bathroom. Letâ€™s say your bath tub is olive green in color, than you should go for tiles that are in contrast with it to add to the visual appeal of the bathroom.

3. Correctly placed and sized: Correct tiles have the ability to make your bathroom look bright as well as spacious. If you have a large bath area, you may go for large and square tiles while smaller bathrooms look bigger if you use small and rectangular tiles.

4. Right color: Bigger bathrooms have the ability to adjust the shine and glow of tiles in bright and bold colors. Since smaller bathrooms need more light, you should use lighter shades of the color spectrum for your bathroom. Even giving a different colored tiled border can add an aesthetic look to your bathroom flooring. Using different color tiles in the shower area and the remaining area also sounds very promising for large bathrooms.

5. Material of tiles: Larger bathrooms can accommodate tiles of any make like marble, granite, limestone or even travertine while for a smaller bathroom you should prefer ceramic, porcelain or glass tiles as they can reflect great amounts of light.

The best place to find the suitable bathroom tiling is to check online for the best designs. There are many stores that offer catalog to pick the design, color and size from. Ensure that it is done with great Southside waterproofing in mind.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/how-to-select-the-best-bathroom-tiling.htm - Article Side

Rose Brodribb - About Author:
Rose Brodribb writes on a Waterproofing Nerang - For more information about a Bathroom tiling and a Southside waterproofing .Please visit â€“ http://www.wetshield.com.au

Article Keywords:
Waterproofing Nerang , Bathroom tiling , Southside waterproofing

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!