Impactful Leaflet Printing Service and Options

by Christopher Cliff

Article published on July 20th 2012 | Business

Leaflets have an important role in disseminating information to target audiences. It is not only the businesses that print and distribute leaflets to promote their companies, goods and services; many NGOs and consumers also print leaflets to promote their objectives and organization now and then. Leaflets have been a favorite and common form of marketing communication that is extremely effective.

Printers

Leaflet printing services can be secured through ordinary printers who print books, magazines, postcards and brochures. The same type of machineries is used for leaflet printing. Experienced printers are able to produce quality leaflets cheaply through the use of right technology and resources.

Leaflets can be printed digitallyÂ orÂ using litho approach withÂ vegetable ink which is a green option. Such ink can be used onÂ gloss paper, silk, matt or uncoated paper stock. Good leaflet printers would have wide options in printing quality leaflets; these options include embossing, die cutting and folding.

Different quantities using different materials are dependent on the customer. There is a myriad of board sizes and weights which can produce classy leaflets for the consumersâ€™ objective.

Costing

Leaflet printing need not be expensive with the plethora of choices in the market today. Different printers would quote different pricing on different types of leaflets; hence, it is better to discuss with the preferred printers on the printing price. Negotiations are better with a face to face discussion; terms of business can be identified clearly to push for a more favorable costing on printing leaflets.

Leaflet printing prices can be quoted free of charge with no obligations from professional and established printers. Prices differ for full color or 4-color leaflet printing; black and white printing would be cheaper. The type of printing process preferred would also impact the printing cost.

The quantity of printing is also instrumental in determining the printing cost for leaflets as well as the design of the leaflet.

Services

Leaflets can be printed in an assortment of sizes depending on the customersâ€™ preference. There is the A4, A5, A6, A7 and DL sizes. Leaflet services can include direct mailing of printed leaflets, hand-to-hand or door-to-door distribution of printed leaflets. Perforated leaflets are getting popular today with their unique look. Further special requests can be made through discussions with experienced printers. Many professional printers would even deliver printed leaflets to the customer with no extra service charge if it were a bulk order.

Leaflets can also be shipped to another country as the printing cost may be cheaper elsewhere.
