

Article Side

Multi Purpose Phoenix Calibration Services by Jacob Eletto

Article published on January 10th 2012 | Business

Calibration of equipment is as important as its proper and accurate working whether it be testing or measurement. Phoenix Calibration is the market leader and one of the well known distributors for calibration, measurement and test instruments. They provide all sorts of services including calibration of instruments, repair services of parts and machines and product testing. Phoenix Calibration gives highly qualified and professional measurement and calibration services all over United States covering the major cities and densely populated industrial sites.

Phoenix Calibration Accreditations- we are ISO/IEC 17025 certified. We provide calibration services you can have full faith and 100% confidence on. The quality and management systems fulfill all the requirements and regulations of ISO 9001:2008 certification.

Our professionalism speaks for itself; we give calibration services for a variety of instruments. We follow many different methods to calibrate the instruments so that the results come up to maximum accuracy. You can also rely on us for the calibration of Reference Standards for temperature, pressure, weight, mass, density and other electronic equipments

Phoenix Calibration DR Industrial Services- we offer calibration of instruments and standards to Aerospace, Automotive, Aviation, Communication, Energy, Health care, Pharmaceutical, Life Sciences, Electrical and many other industries. We also supply expertise to Defense and General manufacturing calibrations.

Phoenix Calibration DR Equipment Services-the quality standards of our services and expertise of our team can handle a number of equipments. We are also very experienced in dealing with delicate instruments. Antenna calibration, Force calibration, Medical and Bio-medical instruments calibration, Pipette calibration, Pressure calibration, Temperature calibration, Fiber Optic calibration. You name it we do it.

Our labs are functional everywhere in United States and whether you conduct operations of singly type or the premises is multipurpose with different running instruments, we are ready to help you anywhere every time. We hire people with high caliber and also train our workers for the advancements in measurement and calibration techniques. We also have a team of ASQ Certified Calibration Technicians with vast knowledge and hand on experience in the relevant field. Phoenix Calibration DR can deal with all types of instruments for calibration, test, repair and measurement. When you ask for our services than there is no need to call other vendors or the manufacturer to resolve the problem related to the equipment. We are one key to all solutions. Phoenix Calibration DR is the pioneer in introducing Calibration Management Systems. Using this quality system you can maintain an online record for the calibration of working instruments. Taking advantage of these systems it can be cost effective, convenient and easily accessible. The system also works as online tool that helps to maintain the quality standards for calibrating instruments.

Phoenix Calibration including Phoenix Calibration DR have more than 100 working outlets and customer services centre operating all over the globe. They also offer mobile services at the site of operation to the registered customers only.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/multi-purpose-phoenix-calibration-services.htm> - Article Side

Jacob Eletto - About Author:

a Phoenix Calibration DR Services - Phoenix Calibration are dedicated to providing calibration services to all types of measuring equipment. a Phoenix Calibration is the only ISO certified laboratory in the country accredited to ISO / IEC 17025 by A2LA, one of the most rigorous and prestigious firms.

Article Keywords:

phoenix calibration, phoenix calibration dr

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!