When it comes to yearbooks, technology has truly transformed what is possible over recent years. With print-on-demand capabilities, schools and organizations are now able to get small quantities of full color yearbooks for a price that wasnâ€™t even touchable years before. Not only that, but yearbooks can now be personalized, making them an even more unique piece of memorabilia.

Most personalization is done by adding a studentâ€™s (or participantâ€™s) name to the front cover of thei yearbook. On soft cover yearbooks, the name is typically printed in full color on the front cover. It is sometimes free and can be done in almost any style, color and font. On hard cover yearbooks, the personalization is usually foil stamped on the front, and is more limited in style, color and font.

All that is required is a list of names to be sent to the printing company, from which they will merge the list with their software to create the personalized books. Most companies prefer this list to be supplied as an Excel file.

Many schools and organizations are embracing this personalization technology to add another element of fun and uniqueness to their yearbooks. What can you envision for your school or organization? For details http://www.expressly-yours.net
