Abu Dhabi hosts a tonne of worldwide corporations and businesses and also has a lot of companies that have emerged from the great emirate itself. With the influx of immigrants from all over the world, foreign businesses dealing with services offered abroad also found commonplace in Abu Dhabi's culture and lifestyle.

Being a rather small but well-planned emirate, space and real-estate has always had its ups and downs which is why it is getting hard for businesses in Abu Dhabi to host storage facilities within the city. Small businesses also find it hard to stock-up considering that there is already less space for setting up a business.

A commercial storage solution is the best answer to such a problem as it provides the necessary support for businesses. But such facilities mostly provide only a roof to keep supplies away from the elements. The odd locations that such commercial storage facilities in Abu Dhabi are at often increase costs for businesses because they do not offer pick-up and delivery of goods, to and from the city. This creates the need for a third-party transportation service which has to be hired.
