The Main Difference Between the Two!

by Pink Pollard

Article published on April 20th 2012 | Business

Most of the people who use office equipment do not actually know the difference between toner and ink cartridges. However, for some reason or the other, they still use toner than ink. It helps to know the advantages of the both in order to make the right choice. Considering their advantages and making comparisons with your needs and requirements of the printing needs would ensure that you have the right option.

The biggest advantage of the ink cartridges is the price. This led the customers to use these cartridges as well as introduction of large sized printers. A lot of customers prefer the ink as it gives out more print outs per cartridge. Most of the customers also feel that the quality of the print outs is much superior to the toner due to the smaller particle size of the materials.

Inkjet is considered to be far more superior and more users friendly. It imprints the object better. This is mainly because of the relatively low price when compared to screen printing. When it comes to print quality and efficiency, ink based appliances are regarded to be better. While toner is powder usually made up of carbon or synthetic polymers, ink is a liquid substance. Till recent times, toners were used only for black and white printing but now the things have changed. They are now used for color printing as well. Their speed as well as the number of print outs per cartridge is also increasing. Since the printing industry is going towards digital imaging, the toner and ink are getting more and more popular.

Toner based printers are not only focusing on the quality image and text documents, they are also working on their speed and efficiency these days. There are many users who feel that the toners are cleaner and easier to work with than ink. Another advantage of the toners is that the documents produced by this way usually last longer than the ink documents.

The people who do not have any preference mainly due to the fact that they have to use only that equipment that is made available at their place of work, are really concerned about the ease of use, speed and the quality of print outs. When it comes to all three choices, both toner and ink deliver almost the same quality.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/the-main-difference-between-the-two.htm - Article Side

Pink Pollard - About Author:
Printerinkcartridges.ie is a brand name in the field of printer in Ireland. If you are looking to buy cheap and branded printer, ink, toner then please visit us here toner and ink, ink cartridges.

Article Keywords:
Toner and ink,ink cartridges

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!