For government jobs in Chennai, you would be well advised to keep looking in the national dailies or some employment specific publications that government of India turns out such as Employment News.

In order to find suitable engineering jobs in Chennai, you might have to depend on your campus placement. There is nothing like getting placed in a good company after you have cleared your engineering graduation. Other than that, you should not localize your search if you want to land the best offer. For offers pertaining to Chennai, you will need to focus and work that bit harder for landing a lucrative offer. The classified ad web portals can help you in this. The local job listings on these portals are much localized. In fact the reputed portals offer to give information or job listings based on particular cities.

It is important when searching for jobs in any city that you focus on your skills. It would be futile to expect to survive in the cut throat environment for long if you are not able to land a good offer before and do justice to it if your skills do not match up to it. With such a situation facing you, it would be advisable that you evaluate each of the listings before and appraise them with regards to your skills. For low end jobs such as data entry or that of a computer operator, the classified ads web portals are ideal. Usually if a company has to look for a computer operator in Chennai, the recruiters would give preference to a localized portal rather than putting it up on big job sites.

This is because they are in need for a local person. It would be difficult to expect a person coming from far flung areas to a city like Chennai just for a computer operator job. The computer operator jobs in Chennai may be performed by a person from out of station, but it is most likely to be for a short period of time. That is why companies would prefer someone local to perform their low end jobs such as computer operator or data entry. Look for a job most suitable to your profile, be it engineering, basic computing or any other.
