Sunglasses, originally, are a protective form of eyewear. Their basic aim is to prevent bright sunlight and high-energy visible light from damaging or discomforting the eyes. Coloured, polarized or darkened lenses are used in the sunglasses to provide the right visual aid to the eyes of the user. Outdoor activities lead to exposure of direct sun light and ultra violet rays which are harmful, sunglasses are meant to avoid such harmful rays to come in contact with the eyes.

Most sunglasses or rather branded sunglasses have the right combination of the lens, frame and the nose bridge. Various brands provide comfort to the eyes along with a great style and design.

Different colours of lenses perform different functions as the protector of the eye other than providing a unique and stylish look. Some of the common colours of the lenses are grey and green which are considered neutral as they maintain true colours, brown coloured lenses that increase the colour contrast, turquoise for medium and high light conditions, orange and yellow for depth perception and blue or purple which are for cosmetic purposes. One can also get styles whose lenses happen to be progressive or bifocal that is similar to a person's standard eyeglasses.

Branded sunglasses like aviator are very popular. These aviator sunglasses have oversize teardrop-shaped lenses and a thin metal frame. Clip on glasses and flip-up glasses have a tint for protection. Gradient sunglasses are very famous amongst young people as well as celebrities. They have a gradual tint with top most being light and the bottom being the darkest. Other famous styles of sunglasses are wayfarers, rap-a-rounds, tea shades, oversized and mirrored sunglasses.

The right glares or sunglasses with a perfect frame design and coloured lenses adds to the style of any person. Sunglasses definitely raise the style quotient of a person. Other than being a great protection to the eyes it also reflects and highlights the personality of an individual.

Branded outlets have a variety of stylish sunglasses to offer. One can select a colour, lens and the style of frames from the given choices. Sunglasses can also be bought from leading shopping websites which offer sunglasses under the best brand names. Online shopping is an easy process by which one can buy the product after going through the features and pay via credit cards, debit cards or cash on delivery option. Most online shopping websites have free shipping.
