Printed Dress Ideas for Prom 2012 by Sandytaylor

Article published on January 4th 2012 | Clothing

The animal print prom gowns are really adored by women. To be frankly, the pattern itself is sexy, wild and flirty. Women who are tired and bored with the sweet lovely styles can try their new styles or they want to change sometimes by the wild beauty. It is a little hard to hold appropriately the print. Too many printed gowns make it easy to cross the line between classy and tacky. You must take care of some tips when you make up your mind to choose the animal print clothes.

Follow what I say can help you stay away from the tacky side and make sure people know you are the fashion forward, trend-setting. I have seen before that not every woman can hold the printed prom dresses appropriately. So if you want to hold these sexy and wild styles of gowns, what can you do?

First, just be confident enough. Just show off your inherent elegance and your inner beauty. Stand straight, just cheer up and shouldn't slouch. Smile a lot can add your charm and allure. People will love you more if there is a charming smile on your face. On confident people can pull off the animal print gown. In the contrast, people who wear animal print well are considered to be confident all the time. Women who are confident can try the zabra print prom dresses.

Second, match the right accessories. There are many accessories in prints like the bracelets, handbags and shoes. This time you should say no to the matched styling. It doesn't matter the size of your printed apparel or accessory. But don't try to wear all the matched things on if you want to be trendy and trend-setting. For example, your leopard printed outfits can be accompanied with shining rhinestone necklace, crystal bracelets and some leather decoration. You can match your animal print prom gown with a pair of leopard printed shoes in high heels, but never more than one. Neutral stones can be also good for your whole perfect figure. If you are wearing a cheetah print dress, you can match it with a solid colored leather waistband on the natural waistline. When I am speaking of the fitted accessories, handbags in leopard prints are also adored by women. Some printed handbags even have some granny chic in them.

Third, just accent your best features. If you have the best feature you want to emphasize, wear something bold patterns over it. And if you want to show off your waist, you can also skip the full leopard print dresses to help shine your party or other important occasions. Just go ahead for the animal print prom dresses and be brave.
