College brings about more formal occasions than you might think. For the special event, what you need do is to pick out the proper yet flattering formal dress. If you have no idea, keep on reading and the content below will give some tips that are helpful to make a right decision.

First of all, in case of errors, it is a good idea to ask the upperclassmen about the general attire for the type of event in question. A fraternity or sorority function may be a little dressier, while a function directly related to the school may be more conservative. For example, when you are going to take part in a semi-formal event, there is no doubt that the style that just hits at or just below the knee should be landed on the list of the best choice. To the contrary, a full-length pattern will be more flattering.

Once you have got the idea, then it is time to buy a gown. You have a wide range of options of silhouettes and colors. It is worth noting that you should not ignore your budget. After all, some styles in high quality from famous designers are easy to dent your budget. On the one hand, you could visit the local stores where plenty of beautiful attires for formals available. On the other hand, it is also advisable to rent one from your friends or relatives. If you really look forward to purchasing a cheaper dress, you had better check the phone book for listings under formalwear, secondhand, resale and vintage.

Take your body shape into consideration if you want to feel and look the best in your outfit. Whether you are a petite girl or a plus size woman, you should make sure the style you are interested in can show off your best features and make your most charming side highlighted. For example, if you are not proud of the lower part of your body, the formal gowns with A-line or princess skirt is sure to flatter you well. Of course, if hope to accent your hourglass figure, a mermaid, sheath and column are the ideal options.

When it comes to the color, it is another important factor that will affect your appearance. The golden rule is the color goes well with your skin tone. In addition, most ladies would like to create a slimmer look, the shades such as sapphire, emerald, deep purple and black won't make you disappointed, surely.

Keep the season in mind when choosing. In the hot summer or spring, the formal dresses in chiffon are wonderful. In the fall, it is perfect to pair a strapless style in satin with a velvet wrap which is sure to offer you a comfort fit.
