In How To Get AdSense article I want to share some tips for get Approve AdSense account easily. As you can see, Google AdSense is a wonderful tool, and allows website owners and bloggers alike to serve up advertisements on their pages that are effective and unobtrusive. But can you really make money off these ads? Well, the answer is yes, but how much depends on what your site is about (site content), how well it is set out or site design, and how many visitors you get.

Google AdSense as its approval policies are generally very complicated and they demand a lot of requirements which would be difficult for newbies to fulfill. For example, your website/blog content must be completely new and created on your own, and not copied; your domain must be registered under your ownership for at least 6 months; your primary domain URL should not be a subdomain or contain extensions such as www.urdomain.com/example and so forth. Not knowing these circumstances newbies submit their AdSense application which would get rejected 90% of the time.

There have been many incidences where the Google AdSense Account Activation requests of many publishers were rejected by Google. And as Google does not state the exact reason why the Request wasn't approved, it keeps the publisher wondering what he did wrong.

It must be noted that Google is getting very strict these days regarding the AdSense Account approval as people are trying to Fool the Advertisers and Make easy money. People from the Asian Sub-Continent have been increasingly caught in AdSense Fraud Activities so the rules are stricter for them. Let us consider a few reasons why adsense account request of Publishers is not being approved.

Simple Tips On How To Get AdSense

- 1) Remember, AdSense team wants your visitors to genuinely click on their Advertiser's ads. So, make sure that your site is easily navigable, make sure that before you submit your AdSense Application
- 2) Never fake your name, address or phone number. The verification is done by a group of people, not by bots.
- 3) Your site can only have content that agree to Google AdSense's policy. Hacking tutorials or tricks are a strict "No way Look". In a word, everything that you post should be LEGAL. Also, just having few original articles won't do the trick.
- 4) For your website to be qualified for AdSense, you need a good aged website. Your blog must be minimum 6 months old before you can apply for AdSense. This is a strict condition for applying for AdSense.
- 5) Trying to use black SEO tricks such as stuffing webpages with keywords, or including hidden text or links to improve search engine ranking is not allowed.
- 6) Applications with URLs of folders such as www.example.com/blog are not approved, they only approve top level domain such as www.example.com
- 7) However, you can apply for sub-domains such as http://blog.example.com

8) Your domain name records should reflect the details provided in your application. Don't try to get an account by providing wrong website or other details.

After implementing all above instructions definitely you will get approved for adsense. But still you are unsatisfied for it than you can refer the blog How To get Adsense. Here is some tips for how to approve adsense without your own domain.
