Kerala is a place that will never stop delighting you. Considered to be one of the most beautiful places in the country, this narrow strip of land between the towering Western Ghats and the Arabian Sea has been bestowed with innumerable natural delights. To give credit to the people of Kerala, who record 100% literacy, it should be said that nature here has been beautifully conserved. Although places like Calicut, Thrissur, Cochin and Thiruvananthapuram are typical cosmopolitan cities, they are still green.

Development has been brought forth without damaging too much of the state's natural splendor. It is something worth emulating. Kerala holiday packages give you this unique experience of witnessing how development can be brought about in a manner that blends with the beautiful surroundings.

The capital of the state is Thiruvananthapuram, also called Trivandrum. The place ranks among the top tourist destinations in the state and is included in most of the Kerala tour packages. With a number of old heritage buildings, temples, palaces and museums, in addition to a lot of ayurvedic centres, Trivandrum is one of the jewels of Kerala tourism. The city was the major centre of the Travancore Kings and their legacy is visible in several parts of the city.

If you are seeking divinity, you need to book one of the many Kerala tour packages to Alapuzha. Houseboats dotted over the serene backwaters which are bordered by tall green coconut palms are a sight to behold. You can opt to stay in one of the houseboats, which are a part of Kerala hotels. This small town is formed in between two rivers and has numerous lagoons, canals and backwaters. The place is also known for its acres of rice plantations. As the rice fields sway in the gentle breeze and magic of the earth unfolds everywhere you look, Alapuzha is like a dream. Towards the north of Kerala, bordering the state of Karnataka, is Kasargod. Here, you can visit the famous Bekel fort which has featured in lots of movies. The beaches here are great for some fun play in the water and of course, like everywhere else in Kerala, there is greenery as far as your eye can see. You can walk around this countryside town and lose yourself in the beauty of paddy fields and lovely backwater lagoons which fill up during the mornings and towards evening when there is high tide in the sea and are reasonably shallow during mid-mornings and afternoons. Spending a whole day on the banks of these fluctuating water levels, as part of your Kerala holiday package, can be a truly enchanting experience.

Another city that you should include in your Kerala tour packages is Thrissur. Known as the cultural capital of Kerala, you can find important temples in this city.
