Nerja is a town worth exploring by Mathews Robb

Article published on July 9th 2012 | Destinations

The people that wish to explore the real Spanish culture that exists in towns should head towards Nerja. Nerja is a beautiful small Spanish town with good infrastructure and natural beauty. There are lots of Spanish restaurants and bars in Nerja having traditional appearance and style. The best way to explore this town is by foot.

There are many people that enjoy the leisurely tour for exploring the town. That takes only thirty minutes time for exploring the town that way. Leisurely tour starts from Plaza Fabrica de los Cangrejos and it ends at the same place. The great thing is that a person has to pay only thirty Euros for enjoying this tour of the town. Even more than one person can enjoy this tour in the same amount of money.

There are some people that avail buses and taxis for exploring the town also. The reason is that they are comfortable and cheap means of transportation for many people. There are some people that reach Nerja from Malaga Airport. For such kind of people the best option is to hire a car from Malaga airport. They can explore this town using the same hired car. The fares of car rentals are very low from Malaga as they start from nine Euros per day only.

One of the most famous places in Nerja is the Burriana Beach. It is located in the municipal area in the village named as Maro. That village has a coastal area comprising of nine kilometers. There are few other beaches in that coastal area as it is sandy having coves and lovely atmosphere. Nightlife in Nerja is awesome. The most famous place in this respect is Calle Antonio Million. Similarly the tutti fruity square is very exciting for night life in this town. Good aspect is that the nightlife is enjoyable in this town whole year.

One of the great aspects of Nerja villas in lloret de mar is that the shops remain open seven days a week. There is legal permission for that in the area. The town is excellent for shopping as there are shopping streets in it. The famous ones amongst them are Calle Cristo and Calle Pintada. Apart from that many people do their shopping from the supermarket at Burriana Beach that remains open only on Sundays. The banks remain open six days a week. However in summer usually the banks are closed on Saturdays.
