There is no lack of delightful excursions for Spain as it is a big country with numerous places to visit. There are panoramic views of natural landscapes for those who appreciate beautiful nature; there are clean and attractive beaches with soft white sand for those who love some fun in the sun. There are numerous historical monuments and archaeological relics for history buffs and archaeologists. There is something for every tourist to Spain. The choice is wide; the tourist can decide on the excursion that best fits the need, time and budget.

Panoramic tours

Spain has many regions that offer the best panorama. Not all parts of Spain are urbanized; many portions have been specially preserved to allow the locals and tourists to enjoy nature at its best. The sunsets and mountain views are astounding in Spain. Many of Spain's towns and villages are located on the mountains or foothills to enjoy the beautiful landscapes around.

There are vast and lush plains and valleys with rich pine and palm trees to offer the desired serenity in that place which is good for the soul. There are many islands around Spain which can offer some romance to any couple or honeymooners.

Tourists on panoramic Spain tours are given a lot of leisure time to soak in the beautiful sights and astounding panorama.

Flamenco tours

Many tourists enjoy and want to indulge in the culture and traditions of Spain which are diverse and colorful due to the nation's diverse cultural influences from past epochs. Hence, flamenco tours are ideal for tourists who want to discover more of Spain intimately. There are excellent flamenco performances cum dinner through the well organized "Show and Gourmet" excursion option. Almost all Spanish cities and towns would offer such a tour option. Tourists would get to relax and enjoy the flamenco show during or after dinner. A typical Andalusia gourmet comprising a 2-course, dessert and coffee, tea or wine would be served.

Cruises

A cruise tour can be very romantic for any couple or honeymooner. A river boat ride on the Guadalquivir River may include a dinner. There would be a sunset view or island hopping option on a cruise tour depending on choice. The cruise passes by many interesting sights of Spain depending on the town or city embarked and disembarked. These cruises highlight the essential beauties of Spain.

The tourist may wish to book these excursions early to avoid disappointment or decide upon arrival.
