Relaxing at Fuerteventura by Nancy Gallen

Article published on July 21st 2012 | Destinations

Fuerteventura is one of the favorite choices of holidays in Spain for many holidaymakers. There are plenty of sights to see and things to do with the numerous beaches around the place.

However, for the first time holidaymakers to Fuerteventura, one should consult an expert like the authentic and experienced tour operator who can advise on the better choices of holiday packages in Fuerteventura.

These professional tour operators are familiar with the local organizationsâ€™ service structures and schedules to ensure a smooth holiday with a well planned itinerary whether for the day or night or both. One can also check online for the various offerings at Fuerteventura to plan an exciting holiday.

Beach offerings

Fuerteventura offers numerous lovely beaches all around. It is a diversâ€™ paradise as well as a haven for environmentalists who love all things natural. The beaches of Sotavento and Jandia are best examples of unadulterated beaches at Fuerteventura as they are almost virgin beaches between Jandia and Pajara. Holidaymakers would enjoy 6 kilometers of fine golden sandy beaches with warm waters and sunshine throughout the year.

The waters are filled with rich marine life which attracts divers from all over the world; whether they are amateurs or veterans. The scenery is fantastic with cruising fishing boats and panoramic sunsets.

There is plenty of fish to delight the local fishermen as shoals of fish pass through the narrow channel of this island to Africa.

Nudists are welcomed at this beach which offers more privacy than other beaches at Fuerteventura. It is not as crowded as other beaches as certain parts of it cannot be accessed by car; hence, nudists have the advantage of a secluded spot to be bare with nature in private.

Paradise and romance

Lovey-dovey couples would find Corralejo beach panoramic for some romance with the picturesque fishing village of Corralejo. This beach is located at the islandâ€™s north; it has fine sand and crystal clear warm waters which attract many here for a stroll or swim.

One can enjoy the local environment with generous local hospitality extended to visitors. Quaint village houses and daily lifestyles of the fishing villagers can be experienced. A day excursion is also possible to Lobos Island which is located nearby and can be easily accessed by boat.

Very few have discovered Lobos Island which is just a few kilometers away from the modern lifestyle of Fuerteventura. Lobos Island is inhabited by only a few fishermen without the modern and complex structures of living. Life is simple and easy as â€œRobinson Crusoeâ€•.
