Jodhpur was considered the capital of kingdom of Marwar. It was also named as the land of death. The city was named as Jodhgarh till the year 1549 and was then named as Jodhpur. On your Jodhpur tours one can come across majestic places, forested hills, serene lakes, full of life towns, calm villages, incredible flora and fauna and the lively and welcoming vivacious people of Rajasthan shape up an elaborate drapery of spirituality, splendor and rural part.

On your Jodhpur travel you can visit the important places like Mehrangarh fort which was built by Rathore Rajputs in 15th century AD when they shifted their capital from Mandore to Jodhpur. Now a part of this fort has been converted into a museum which is taken care of by the Royal trust and is open for the visitors. The important buildings within the fort are the Moti Mahal, Janki Mahal, Chandan Mahal, Darbar Takht or the throne room where the king used to be seated, Rang Mahal, Sheesh Mahal, Phool Mahal, Umaid Vilas and Maan Vilas which are very common among the travelers from India as well as from abroad. This place shows the rich culture of Indian history filled with pride.

Another major attraction of Jodhpur tour is the Umaid Bhawan which was built in the year 1929 under Maharaja Umaid Singh. He designed the building by the British Royal Institute of Architects which was made of marble and Chittar sandstone and hence seldom known as Chittar Palace too. Maharaja Gaj Singh II lives in one of the parts of this place and the other part has been converted into a luxury hotel for the tourists.

Other interesting places to visit on your Jodhpur tours are the Jaswant Thada, Girdikot, Sardar Market and the Government Museum where you may get to see many royal and antique items. In case you are interested in enjoying the local custom and tradition then one must opt for village safari as it will show you the lively lifestyle of the people of Rajasthan.

So this time if you want to treat your family with a vacation then opt for Jodhpur travel as the splendor of this beautiful city will leave you awe-struck on your journey and you and your family will take back memories of a lifetime. After all wherever you travel in Jodhpur the places of attraction will leave you completely dumbfounded with its fantabulous beauty it displays.
