Article published on April 19th 2012 | Divorce

If you get upset from your marital life then the only option left behind you is the Separation. But to have divorce in New York is very expensive and a long process but it in actual we can settle it easily and doesnâ€™t require to spend more. By following these steps you can save your time, stress, money and aggravation.

- Try to find the assistance of a Divorce mediation service â€“ Divorce mediators play their role as a third party to help to get prepared for the settlement of the agreement that will automatically sort out all the issues related to the separation which you want to discuss. Once you will hire a divorce mediator you will be easily have the full fledged knowledge of all the laws and procedures and will help you to avoid the unnecessary expenditure of appointing two attorneys individual for both the parties and will also avoid wastage of their time in the unnecessary process of the settlement act. For your own and independent advice both the parties prefer to hire individual lawyers who will settle their case as per their needs and agreements so that you can easily put your reviews in front of the people and to justify their problem in front of everyone. No doubt that this process of hiring individual person to settle down your disputes is very cost effective and efficient to have the favorable advice of the legal counsel after settling down the negotiation with the guidance of the mediator.

- Choose the right mediator â€“ It is better to go for the highly professional and experienced person who possesses the skills of efficiently handling all the cases no matter what the issue may be. An experienced person give all the necessary guidance on all the issues including child support situations, complex custody and other matters related to the division and valuation of all liabilities and assets. Not only this, one must chose a person who can efficiently prepare all the legal documents and perform all the similar activities like filing the court documents as well as filing the deeds which is quite necessary in all the separations.

- Clearly recognize the process and the cost â€“ Most of the New York divorce mediator follows a fee structure which get hike in no time at very fast speed. Some mediation firms are also there who follows the beneficial rates but it takes so much time to come in process of preparing the documents and also in settlement of the agreements.
