Never underrate the power of change quotes and quotes about change. Great quotes and sayings do not just change lives; they have the potential to change the destiny of the nation as a whole. If everyone was to listen and ponder over wisdom produced by wise men and sages over the ages, words have the power to bring about great change.

Every so often, great men and women of wisdom, such as Mohatma Gandhi, Albert Einstein, Mother Teresa, and the like, have appeared on the stage to teach us tremendously great ideals about life itself. Whether you find yourself overwhelmingly surrounded by uncompromising relationships, deteriorating health, or need to deal with problems that concern your work, children, family, and others such matters; or are simply feeling down and under, unmotivated, chronically depressed, or unable to get on with your life, there is always a particular quote, among many such change quotes or quotes about change, which can help to provide you the desired mental boost, to successfully cross over these seemingly insurmountable obstacles.

Today, we live in an age where one has lost all values of existing as cultured human beings. In consequence, the entire human race finds itself in a persistently suffering state. One often asks himself if life is in true reality actually meant to be so. The truth is, it is and never was so! Thus, making specific reference to change quotes and quotes about change, the great spiritual leader, Buddha said, â€œBeing alive is a great fortune; we are here to enjoy life and to become happy.â€•

The question that follows is obviously, why should such a vast majority of human beings be so unhappy and miserable? Well, the reasons are in their thousands. So, whether affluent or not; in excellent or poor health; if you have determinedly chosen to be unhappy, you will always be so. Though on certain occasions mistakes do result from actions performed by others, mostly it is us that is solely to be blamed for most of them. Unfortunately, we have forgotten to be thankful for countless blessings bestowed upon us.
