Branded Sunglasses or Sun Cheaters by Suhana Tichkule

Article published on January 10th 2012 | Fashion

â€œSun cheatersâ€• is a term used for sunglasses, coined in the 20th century. Sunglasses are known by different names like glares, shades, sun shades, smoked glasses, sun spectacles and glints. Almost every person, starting from a young one to a teenager, an old man or woman, has at least a single pair of sunglasses with them.

Sunglasses are eye wears that provide protection to the eyes. They provide visual clarity as well as visual comfort to the person. Excessive exposure to light can be harmful for the eyes; sunglasses provide protection against these harmful light rays like ultraviolet rays that leads to short-term and long-term ocular eye problems or defects like cataract etc.

Branded sunglasses have a lot of designs in terms of collection and variety. Various colours like green, grey, brown, black, red, indigo, blue etc. are available as the colour of the lenses. Almost every colour of the lens of the sunglasses is there in the market. Frames, too, are one of the basic essentials of shades or sunglasses. Frames are also available in a wide range of colours and patterns. Nose Bridge, used in the sunglasses, also has variety in terms of design and styles.

Branded sunglasses add to oneâ€™s style quotient. Sun shades create a definite style statement and are almost necessary for every youngster. They are truly the reflectors of an individualâ€™s personality. Sunglasses also has lens for myopic and hyper myopic patients. Special sunglasses are made for sports purpose like water glares.

One can have a huge availability of sunglasses under different price ranges, colours, brand names, types of lens and frame design via online shopping websites which have virtual shops, e-shops or e-stores. Leading online shopping websites not only provides people with branded and designer products like apparels, sunglasses, watches, mobile phones etc. but also great offers like snapdeal products deal that enables people to buy their required product at cheaper rates. Discount offers ranging from flat 40 % to even 90 % is given on various items or services related to fashion, health and beauty, accessories, restaurant services, hotel services and many more. One can make the payment of the deal by using their credit cards, an option of using debit cards is also available along with cash on delivery feature. The shipping of the sunglasses is generally absolutely free and the quality is mostly satisfactory. However, donâ€™t forget to check the online shopâ€™s buyback policy.
