Did You Know the Weather Can Affect Your Weight by Lisa Beverley

Article published on November 25th 2011 | Fitness

Did you know that there is a difference in weight between Los Angeles and New York? If you're thin in New York chances are good that thought in the form of fat in LA! It's just maybe 10 pounds difference. In New York all the women you see have real curves, there is a size 2 in the group. However, in Los Angeles, each of these women in New York may begin to feel the fat in a few minutes of stepping foot off the plane!

One of the main factors is probably due to the weather. Yes! Let's blame this time! There is a time of year in Los Angeles that can not be comfortable wear bathing suits. What this means is that there is a time of year where exercise and diet ever really stops.

Now see this juicy fact, the clothes take off in Los Angeles, more seem to be getting, but in New York, more than you have on clothes, the more satisfied you will get. It's like a dress code that nobody knows, but turns out to be a fact. All because of the change of seasons, which cover it, curiosity begins to happen in the minds of men.

This is what it should be noted that in Los Angeles. You should wear, tight jeans, carrying bag this year and, feet, shoes this season. Turning around and heading to New York, is a dress that is seen. Why? It is because of its climate. What you wear can cover a multitude of sins, ie the extra kilos that make you invisible again in Los Angeles, makes one hot mama in New York!

Those who visit the coast on both sides feel it is healthier for all women to visit the opposite coast of where they live now. That would open their eyes to the fact that not a size 0 is not the end of the world. Think what would be a field trip for teens who are too fat or too thin? How do you like to visit the opposite coast from where they live now? There would be a change in attitude when they come to see her better or worse depending on where you are.

Those in the center of the western and eastern coast, so do not know what it is for them, but be careful not to visit Miami in the short term. They do not wear nothing but bikinis and short shorts. It has been said that a 0 size very fond of Los Angeles he was fat, when she got off the plane in Miami.

What this really means ladies, wherever we live, but it all boils down to this. Be happy with who you are, diet and exercise under the supervision of a physician, and not worry about what size of other women can be. Ask any man, who love us, no matter how large or small.
