Article published on December 19th 2011 | Hardware

Colours and life have a strange connection. Whatever we see, whatever we feel and even so whatever we like and dislike, all can be explained and discarded both at the same time by judging them on the basis of good colour, bad colour, or no colour at all. And using exactly this philosophy merchandising has proliferated into our lives. Clothing, food, interior dÃ©cor and even gadgets and machines, colour and colourizing has changed the way all these industries are evolving off late.

Today weâ€™ll talk about use of colours in the world of machines and gadgets. Yes, weâ€™re talking abo Colour Printer and All in One Printers. In this digital age colour resolution has come a long way and with the advancements in technology more and more colours with varying shades have come to life. So in such a scenario whatâ€™s the fun if you donâ€™t have a colour printer? Black and white printers are thing of past now, itâ€™s time to move on to Colour Printer and enjoy all the colours of life imprinted in their glorious best.

In fact, itâ€™s that time when people want more than promised. Consumer mentality is shifting towards an all in one attitude where they want a compact entity with assets of multiple things. This consumer attitude has touched the industry of print and publishing too. Now select brands have started catering to consumers who want All in One Printers that are multipurpose. The advantage of using All in One Printers is that you get features of printing, photo copying, fax and scanning all together in the compact all in one printer that you own.

Gone are the days when one had to buy everything separately and find space to accommodate each machine. And mind you itâ€™s not just about accommodating but also about maintenance of each machine separately. With All in One Printers maintenance cost is no more a hassle. And no need to make room and adjust so many machines separately. Just buy an all in one printer and make use of it when you need a colour printer for printing, photocopier for documents, a scanner for your pictures and a fax machine for effective docu-communication. All in One Printers prove to be a great blessing for all!

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/hardware-articles/advantages-of-using-all-in-one-printer-and-colour-printer.htm - Article Side

Rohan Sinha - About Author:
So what are you waiting for, is it the cost factor that troubles you? Donâ€™t worry, by going for All in One Printers or a Colour Printer from a reputed brand like Canon you will not only save a lot of money but you can also be rest assured about its functioning as Canon products come with great functionality and warranty.

Article Keywords:
Colour Printer, All in One Printers

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!