Article published on December 31st 2011 | Hardware

With Apple capitalizing and monopolizing the technology market and catching everyone's attention, all other products need to be in tune and compatible with the latest Apple products! Well, when I pad was launched, it became an instant hit but one of the main concerns was printing anything directly from your I pad! And it still remains a concern. All these years, customers comfortably went to their laptops and desktops, synced printers with it and printed whatever they wanted. All they had to do was find a printer compatible with their make of the computer and sync it! I pad is for people on the go and the question is do they really need to transfer data to computers and laptops for printing anything. It still remains a mystery and printers are finding it difficult to sync themselves to normal printers. Whether a picture or a document, printers are very important to determine print quality. Log on to www.123inkfast.com and talk to one of our agents to give you a complete run down on everything about syncing printers!

Well, currently, there are couple of types of applications available:

â€¢Direct Printing

Different printers have different systems - Canon easy photo print for Iphone, HP's Iprint or Eprint etc. As the name suggests, Canon printer is designed to print only pictures and photographs and not really word documents. But you can print screen shots. It is actually more compatible with Iphone and not really Ipad. Few others are also compatible but you need to do a thorough research! visit us at 123inkfast.com and know more about printers and compatibility

â€¢Printing to Shared Printers

This mainly works on Mac and not really other printers. PC Magazine found success with Lexmark and Epson but not others. Thus, there is much left to be desired if you own an IPad and want to directly print excel sheets or word documents from it

Most of the other computers and laptops are very compatible with most printers. Ipad and other such technologies are in need to build applications which can be synced to regular printers. This will be a big bonus and added advantage to both industries. If you want to know more about cartridges or printers to be used for printing pictures, documents etc, or you want to know which is best suitable for your office, just contact us. Our agents are here 24/7 to chat with you and clarify doubts.
