There are Professional Agencies for Duplicating CDs by Editor123

Article published on June 16th 2012 | Hardware

If you are looking for some quality work in CD duplication or DVD duplication, there are some professionally run companies in the United Kingdom that do not compromise on quality. Some of these companies have directors that have had considerable experience in a variety of top notch companies such as British Gas and Disney, National Geographic and TNT besides Reuter and Columbia Pictures. Such companies provide high-quality, cost-effective services to the CD industry. These services are fairly comprehensive and include not only CD Duplication, but also CD Replication, DVD Replication, DVD Duplication, Audio & Video Mastering and several others. You get top quality of discs due to several reasons. These reasons relate to the stringent quality control procedures and the regular maintenance of all equipment that are periodically calibrated.

One of the features associated with CD and DVD Duplication work is that of screen printed CD and DVD. This is ideal for the kind of artwork that involves spot or pantone colours irrespective of whether you wish to leave them blank or plan to burn the data yourself. You may also opt for having the company duplicate your discs in which case screen printing can be considered a good option for mid to high quantity levels with requirements of a fast turnaround. Screen printing will give you a smooth and high quality finish and is very effective with the type of artwork that is based on simple shapes or colour schemes.

There is practically no difference between lithographic offset and the discs that are screen printed. Lithographic offset printing, on the other hand, is the standard for the industryâ€™s requirements in high quality photographic reproduction on fully manufactured discs. If you have a need for full manufacturing with more complicated artwork, offset printing is the better choice for cost-effectiveness and quality. Thermal transfer printing, high resolution inkjet printing and digitally printed surface labels are some of the services provided for your DVD and CD Duplication work.

In some of the top companies, DVD printing and DVD Duplication suite is geared to the highest quality finish with the fastest turnaround. Your duplicated DVDs and CDs are all laser-written rather than being manufactured thereby eliminating longer setup times. This is certainly an economical option when either your requirements are in excess of a thousand units or you want a fast turnaround. The high quality inkjet printers give you vivid colour reproduction as well as excellent resolution and this is finished with a gloss or a matte lacquer for longer life.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/hardware-articles/there-are-professional-agencies-for-duplicating-cds.htm - Article Side

Editor123 - About Author:
For further information on a DVD replication, a CD replication, please visit http://www.a1duplication.co.uk/

Article Keywords:
CD Duplication, DVD Duplication, CD replication, DVD replication

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!