For those who are looking to get a full, plump set of lips, choosing the best lip plumper will help with the task. There are several lip plumpers on the market today, therefore finding the best lip plumper might be a bit of a trial and error for each individual, but there are certain brands of lip plumper that truly stand out. Depending on what you are looking for, and what your budget might be, the best lip plumpers will vary for each purchaser. Here are a few brands to consider, when deciding which the best for your lips is.

If you truly want the best lip plumper, Just Plump is a great brand to try. Not only does it feature a great scent, it also offers several components that make it the best lip plumper to purchase. It offers a sexy sheen, remains on your lips for hours at a time, and the plumping effect seems to last for several days. It is also the best lip plumper as it is one of the few on the market which has a semi-permanent effect built in. However, users should not overuse the product, as it may cause the lips to appear too plump or swelled.

Another option to consider when looking for the best lip plumper is Lip Fusion. Although it does not offer the lasting effect, it will offer plump lips after application. It works decently, and does give your lips the plumping effect, but for the price ($70 depending on where you purchase), it might not be the best lip plumper for all purchasers, and does seem a bit over priced due to the fact that it does not offer the lasting effect which users would hope for with a product at such a high price point.

A third option to consider when buying the best lip plumper is Lip Venom. This product might be irritating to some people, so if you are prone to break outs, it might cause the lips to turn a bright red color, rather than offer the plump lips you are hoping for. It does have gold flakes in the mix, so your lips will appear shinier and healthier upon application. If you are looking to enhance the natural color of your lips, this might be the best lip plumper for you, but as far as natural plumping ability, might not be the ideal option.

Another option to consider when buying the best lip plumper is Crushy Lips. It does offer the plumping effect you are looking for, and is far cheaper than the others, but it only offers the plumping effect for very limited durations. For those who are on a budget, this might be the best plumper to purchase, but do not expect the lasting effect.

The best plumper will depend on the purchaser. But, these are a few of the better brands on the market, and they will do the job. Depending on the budget, and what the purchaser is looking for, the best will vary from consumer to consumer.
