Folding Ramps by Ethen Hunt

Article published on January 20th 2012 | Health

The world is not flat everywhere. The nature has taken its own sweet time to craft it and we, the humans, followed the same route. The elevated places are trouble-free to reach by ourselves; but quickly convert into a pinnacle whenever the weighty equipments such as scooters, vans, etc. are to be placed on the elevated tracks. The person with mobility disorders finds it complicated to reach the elevated top. Ramp is a solution of this problem. Folding ramps are the means used to reach a place previously impossible to reach. However, there are multiple folding ramps to ensure the easy movement. Single fold ramps are widely admired due to the ease of carrying and folding.

Single fold ramps with us:

Topmobility.com is an online marketing place providing single fold ramps, multiple fold ramps, threshold ramps and many more. Our single fold ramps have given us a niche market due to their light weight and strong structure. We provide single fold ramps in the following models:

* Single fold ramp with carry bag.

* Suitcase ramp with advantage series.

* Portable single fold ramp.

* Pride single fold ramp.

* Manual bi-folds van ramp system.

However, all the above models are further subdivided suiting to the individual need of loads, length and other attributes. Here, we try to figure out the common attributes of each product:

* They are available in various load sizes and lengths.

* Designed to transition wheelchair or scooter from one height to another.

* Durable and lightweight construction.

* All come with slots to drench the water out from the ramp.

* Our suitcase folding ramps are advanced series. The light yet solid Aluminum keeps the suitcase handy.

* They can be folded in halves or can be carried as per the convenience.

* Most of the advanced ramps come up with grip tape.

* Can be used for various purposes such as van lifting, elevating the scooter or the wheelchairs etc.

Our single fold ramps possess all the qualities that an ideal folding ramp should have. Moreover, the easy mobility and packing make it more popular among the user.
