Itâ€™™s that time of the year once again when every child waits for the Santa and his bag of goodies. And your duty to fulfil that wishful demand gets all the more important as Santa canâ€™™t be elusive!

One thing that will go well with kids of all ages, is toys. Some toys are capable of attracting the adults as well but that is a different story altogether. Moving to the kidsâ€™™ arena, there is a plethora of toys and games to choose from.

When it comes to small kids, besides entertainment, the safety aspect plays a major role in deciding the kind of toy suitable for your kid. Hanno Gorilla is one such toy range that belongs to the safest choice as far as one to three-year-olds are concerned. Named after the Greek navigator Hanno who first found the deep-jungle animal Gorilla and thus the name of the toy seems apt and most suitable. Hanno Gorilla, a wooden toy is very safe to handle and easy to play with. With its flexible limbs and elastic muscles, the toy is absolutely harmless to the kids. The toy has gained a name for itself in the international toy market.

Meanwhile, the present day generation of kids does not want to remain restricted with simple toys, the moment they grow up to a stage where they start realising that there is more that they can do with toys, then the demand goes up to more technology oriented games.

To satisfy your kids with technical orientation, one choice can be the Cubebot, a robotic toy that doesnâ€™™t depend on batteries to function, is available in various sizes that fall under small, medium and big. With elastic muscles and limbs made of wood, this Cubebot can be transformed into various shapes. The toy can also be adjusted to a perfect cube for easy handling and portability. Inspired by a Japanese puzzle toy, Cubebot is yet another gift that you can give to your kids for a new change if they have not had one of the kind in their kitty already.

Another consideration for your kids can be some utility stuff that they can enjoy and also use for regular works. One suggestion that is well suitable especially for the school goers is the Bird Alarm Clocks. The cuckoo from the house that pops out its head at regular interval of time to inform about the hour of the day, is a good option to gift your darlings this Christmas. The gift will help your kids to get a sense of time lapse as the bird alarm clocks help in catching the attention of the kids every time the bird comes out from the house to detail the time. The gift can be easily installed on the interior walls of the kidsâ€™™ bedroom and would be better if chosen in some bright colour and also with a nice tune to announce the time.

Besides, there are several gift ideas that you can explore in the market. In fact, it is always a good idea to think of your kids liking and requirement when buying any gift to make the entire process more interesting and welcoming.
