Happiness knows no bounds when a person starts fulfilling his dreams. When it comes to happiness, it differs from one person to another and there is no definite yardstick by which the happiness can be codified and brought within any four walls.

A student is happy while he obtains good scores in his examinations; an unemployed youth is happy while he gets a job according to his ambition and desire; the happiness of a housewife can be much more while she has a baby and the reasons for attaining happiness are many and in fact it depends upon many factors and anything whether small or big can bring happiness provided it fulfills the desire or requirement of the person concerned.

Towards fulfilling the requirement in having a house, apart from the location and financial strength designing also requires more attention and of course many promoters are skilled in the art of residential architecture to a great extent.

In fact, a house needs to have a lot of facilities and amenities. When it is talked about the facilities, the number of various rooms like bed rooms, bath rooms, living rooms, portico, toilets and kitchen are to be thought of. Designing should be done in such a way that the rooms have enough space like homes in naples Florida. A toilet should have sufficient room space in order to even accommodate a bulky person and the bed room should be constructed in such way that it has sufficient space for accommodating two adults and two small children apart from facilities to have some racks in order to keep the clothes and bed sheets etc.

Similar is the case in respect of kitchen and it should have facilities to accommodate a refrigerator, many vessels, mixer, dish washers, gas cylinders, induction stoves and many more.

The living room should he capable of accommodating furniture with seating arrangements sufficient for more than eight to ten persons, a dining table and six chairs.
