Create Natural Look with Limestone flooring tiles by MPG Stone

Article published on December 10th 2011 | Home Improvement

Limestone flooring tiles create a natural look through them in any place installed. The compressed and aged calcite mineral form is quarried and processed to form white and cream limestone flooring tiles. Initially limestone was thought to be in one color only but it is witnessed in grey and green color also.

These daysâ€™ home owners want to install serenity of white in and outside their homes. Inside flooring is managed with marble-white flooring. Rugged limestone when polished looks exact replica of marble and is ideal for exterior flooring. Limestone flooring is not marble flooring but it goes well to give desired effects in exteriors.

Natural stones are best flooring materials as these look natural and exotic and lasts long.

Natural Look

There are many artificial replicas of natural stones but these do not suffice for the natural look created by natural stone. Secondly, natural stones have an aura of their own. The richness and valor displayed by them is simply incomparable.

Natural stone was inaccessible to many in the past but nowadays with advanced machinery it is within the reach of many who can afford them and install them in their homes.

The natural look of stone is yearned by many but most people are unaware of its resource. These days, natural stone India is exported to all major cities across the world to enable natural stone flooring. People wanting to be in budget choose granite, marble or slate flooring in the interiors and install sandstone or limestone flooring tiles in the exteriors. Interior and exterior flooring pattern van be chosen to blend well with each other.

Long lasting

Limestone flooring has been used in architectural monuments which date back to 16 Century. This is the greatest example of the long-lasting characteristic of natural stone.

Today it is a known fact that limestone flooring tiles do not weather with changing climatic conditions. These stay as they are with little maintenance. People can maintain the beauty of their place with regular care of their limestone flooring tiles.
