We take some things for granted in our lives. For example we'll think that our parents will always be there to take care of us. To tell us what you should do and what one should not do or to correct us whenever we go wrong; to pamper us with their love and go overboard of mend any damage that is created by our reckless behavior. We take our siblings for granted. They'll always be by our side to hide the mischief that we commit or even we can release our frustration on them.

In our adult lives some friends or a partner who loves and care for us; we take them for granted to help us out in problem, give us support. Sometimes we take ourselves for granted. We think we'll live forever and in a position to help ourselves and our beloved. That is why we are reluctant in taking insurance and provide for security for our beloved when we are no more. In fact we take all kinds of security for granted! Though we keep on reading about burglary in residential as well as commercial establishments from time to time, we always think we'll not be affected.

But that is necessary not always the case and what we all should do is proactively try to make our lives and belongings secure.
