How to Spice up a Room with Monogram Wall Decals by Jane Smithson

Article published on March 21st 2012 | Interior Design

Wall decals a great way to instantly enhance the interior design and ambiance of any room. Whether you are trying to create a more relaxing atmosphere in your bedroom or adding to the businesslike demeanor of a conference room, you can easily accomplish this with the right wall decals.

The vinyl finish makes these decals simple to clean and the decals are easy to install with minimal effort or experience required. The custom decals look as if they were painted on your walls by a design expert. When you decide to move the decal or update the design at a later date, the decals can easily be removed from the walls without leaving a residue or damaging them in any way.

The decals can be used to show your allegiance to a favorite sports team, add a nice floral print to a bedroom, or display a company logo in a corporate office. Your kidsâ€™ rooms can be easily accented with decals featuring animals, sailboats, and even castles. Since the designs are non-permanent and easy to update, the decals can be as unique as your kidsâ€™ personalities!

Monogram wall decals, which are custom decals that incorporate a name, instantly add a splash of uniqueness and personalization to any room. A monogram wall decal can advertise the name of the creator of a specific design, or the identity of a football player. You can also use a monogram wall decal to add your own name to whatever design you have chosen.

Monogram wall decals have nearly limitless applications. You can have your child's name added right over their bed, or just use initials on a coat of arms or other family seal.

You can add monogram wall decals to the decorations in your man cave. This allows you to pay respect to your favorite sports star. You can do this by adding his name over a collection of photos and posters showing his greatest moments.Â

Your teenager can use decals to express their emotions or to commemorate their achievements. For example, if your child is an athlete, they can put their uniform number and symbols of their sport on the wall, along with their name. This can all be done in their school colors, along with any special designation, like varsity or team captain.

You can even create a family tree in the den, with different family member's names listed among the branches of the tree. You can add other names around the tree as needed, by simply ordering a new decal and placing it where you wish. You can also use wall decals to create elegant monograms of your family's names around the fireplace.

An office can use a monogram wall decal to show the company's mission statement or motto, with the monogram of the author of that statement added to it. Wall decals can even be used to keep track of a team's objectives. You can do this by having custom decals made to state each objective and then hanging them in the meeting room, or in various team member's offices.
